The non-alignment of Romania at the current practices of subsidizing of the agriculture and of custom protection of the own agricultural products, from other countries, creates a handicap for the Romanian agricultural producers. The insufficiency of the financial resources, the legislative instability, the putting into practice of a system of credits with high interests, the delaying of the privatization process, but also the using of some technologies based on old equipments, can't lead to performances, inclusively in the economical-financial field. Taking into consideration of these aspects, the authors proposed to present the evolution of the economical-financial indicators recorded by S.C. „Vinifruit” Copou S.A. Iași in the period 1996-2000 and the strategy for the future.
