

Cercetari privind selectivitatea diferitelor erbicide aplicate pentru combaterea buruienilor din culturile de fasole

M. ZAHARIA, T. ONISIE, G. JITAREANU - USAMV Iași

In Romania the culture of beans has a importance both in the state department and in the privat departament.

The use of herbicides has a great importance in the weed control of beans culture which is very susceptibly to weed growing. Another problem of the beans culture is the presence in the field of many weeds species from specific flora. All these reason determine us to research the influence of the new sort of herbicide on the weeds control and the selectivity of the cultivated plants.