

The hermeneutics of time and space as circumscribed to the universal dimension of communication

Simona Catrinel AVARVAREI - USAMV Iasi

Our intention is to shape the profile of the space and time dimension as reflected in different cultural horizons. These two dimensions have various identities, not only within the framework of multiple cultural spaces, but also within the limits of the same cultural area - and it is these aspects that are going to be presented in this paper.