

Cu privire la starea actuală a construcțiilor zootehnice productive și a posibilităților de reabilitare a acestora

RĂILEANU Roxana-Dana, BUCUR D. - USAMV Iasi

The problems of the live-stock farms membership and destination contribute, through the abandoning and the degradation of the afferent buildings, to a supplementary and a long term complication of the possibilities of an efficient reusing of these. The real existence of these constructions, on the other side of their patrimonial value, constitutes a remarkable productive foundation, reason for which it is considering that the identification of the possible solutions for giving back of these constructions in the productive circuit is necessary.
