

ASPECTS REGARDING ROUMANIA'S VEGETABLES OFFER AND CONSUMPTION ASPECTE PRIVIND OFERTA SI CONSUMUL DE LEGUME DIN ROMANIA

FĂNIȚĂ Georgeta, DUȚĂ Adriana, CONSTANTINESCU Emilia - University of Craiova

The crop of the vegetables has a special importance from the followings points of view: alimentary, herapeutically, economically and socially. Due to the turnings appeared in the property structure new change took place both in the yield and the vegetables consumption. The tender of agriculture produces influences the demand of consumption both from the size's and structure's point of view. In order to have a complete picture about Romania's demand of vegetables (come from ist own crop) and also from the measures in which this covers the total consumption needs must be necessarily taken into account the following aspects: the total area tilled with vegetables, the average yield on the hectare, the vegetables yield on the inhabitant, the structure of the necessary physiological consumption on the main vegetable products and the satisfaction degree from the yield specific of this consumption.