

Finanțarea rurala între teorie și practică

Camelia APETROAIE - Oficiul Județean de Consultanță Agricolă Iași

The paper analyses the present situation of the Rural Finance Programme (sustained by The World Bank and supervised by The Public Finance Ministry), of the Rural Finance Development Programme (initiated by United States Agency for International Development), as well as the real results obtained in Iași County. There are emphasized, the actual difficulties, the receptivity of the bank system and the real help offered by the specialists of The County Office of Agricultural Consultancy to the inhabitants of rural communities in Iași County. The study shows that the best results regarding rural finance have been obtained after applying the Rural Finance Development Programme initiated by United States Agency for International Development and through small credits.
