

Nitratii si problema medicala si sociala. Apa in mediul rural

Gabriela-Anca VIERU - Cabinet Medical Individual, Scânteia, Iași

Acute or chronic nitrates intoxications in countryside, manifests as a result of water consumption from wells and unsafe water sources.

Acute nitrates intoxication, especially for infants, is potentially deadly and requires prompt therapeutically intervention.

Chronic nitrates intoxication causes anemia that doesn't respond to treatment, with severe consequences for the organism.

Specially designed programs for preventing soil and water contamination and educational programs for preventing nitrates intoxication are required.