

Influenta compostului si ingrasamintelor minerale asupra productiei la cativa hibrizi de porumb

Rodica CRISTEA - Școala Generală Caraculău, Bacău
M. AXINTE, M. ZAHARIA - USAMV Iași

Research carried out in 2005 regarding the influence of compost upon the maize yield highlighted the fact that the 30 t compost/ha fertilisation generates some extra output profit = 47,16% when compared with the unfertilised variant. TURDA SU 210 proved to be the most productive hybrid and the best thickness per sector was that of 60 thousand plants.