

The monitoring of some physical and chemical parameters in order to establish the Danube water quality in Bazias-Pristol areas

Elena GAVRILESCU, B.F. GAVRILESCU - University of Craiova

The Danube hydrographical area is superimposed on the major depletions of the Central and South-East Europe, being surrounded on one sight by hercinique mountains and the alpino-dynarique Carpathians on the other sight. All Danube effluents are targeted towards this depletion.
