Starting point for mountain vacations, with an exceptional natural environment, with mountain farms spread on terraces, Ciocănești commune manages to add a special charm to this area.

The beauty of the houses is also given by the local architecture, with exterior designs inspired by the traditional popular costumes, representing flora, zoomorphic or geometrical motifs that cover the exterior walls like a multicolor girdle, in brown, black, olive, brick-red and ochre.

The traditions and customs piously preserved by the local inhabitants constantly attract hundreds of tourists.

Periodically, there are very special events organized in Ciocănești commune, which are important for development of the cultural, national and universal patrimony. Out of 21 events organized in a year, the most famous and attractive are: "The festival of Eastern painted eggs", "The National Trout Festival", "Snow festival" and "Suhardului Mountains Cup".

A developed agri-tourism network has been established, comprising 12 certified agri-tourism guesthouses and 31 other are waiting to be certified. The ones that are already certified received 1, 2 or 3 daisies.
