

Influența unor factori tehnologici asupra calității producției la varza cultivată în sistem ecologic

STOLERU Carmen-Maria, STAN N., STAN C. - USAMV Iasi

The contaminant from agro alimentary products is represented by any substance deliberately or not intentionally added as a result of the production or environment contamination. The contaminants level found in the cabbage is maintained at a low value by applying good agricultural practices during all technological links. The maximum levels for the contaminants are stated through veterinary/sanitary and food safety standards from Romania (Dispositions 1145/27.10.2005 and 12/10/2005) and regulations and norms of European Commission (466/2001 and 2375/201).