

The exit strategy as responsible withdrawal from sustainable development projects

GRIGORAȘ M.A. - USAMV Cluj-Napoca
POPESCU Agatha - USAMV București
MERCE E., ARION F. - USAMV Cluj-Napoca

The paper addresses the role of the public research university in promoting more sustainable agrarian practices. It is focused on the idea that a proper exit strategy of any research project should aim to bridge the innovation gap that exists between research and practice and that a responsible withdrawal from a research program in the field of sustainable development must ensure proper knowledge transfer to the institutions of the local community.